JOHANNIS

*The King of Natural Table Waters.
A Natural Sparkling Water.
Bottled at the Johannis Springs, Zollhaus, Germany.*

Johannis was selected as the Standard from among the Natural Mineral Waters of the World by the London Lancet.

Home Journal, N. Y., says: JOHANNIS is pure, therefore healthful; it is clear as crystal, thus pleasing to the eye; it is lively and sparkling, therefore refreshing to the taste.

GOOD-BYE, my summer hat, good-bye!
I fain would keep you still!
I cannot part without a sigh.
But you won't fill the bill!
Although the price I paid for you
Was really pretty steep,
Although they're still on view,
Just like you, very cheap;
Your straw is black, your ribbon soiled;
You're rather crooked, too;
Alas, you whole appearance's spoiled;
My summer hat, adieu!
They've called you in, so au revoir!
I bow to fashion's code,
I mustn't wear you any more,
A cloth hat's now the mode.
—New York Sun.

The modistes have dipped their pens in dew and dubbed the new materials names that would not sandpaper even a poet's ear. We no longer have pinks and blues, tans and grays, reds and "yellows." Instead, there are names fit for a bard to conjure with—ashes of rose, crushed geranium, Wilhelmina blue and pearl incarnadine. These shades really ought to be set to slow music. Though you will trip over them in fashion articles, be careful how you try them on well-meaning but soulless clerks. A bottle of smelling salts should go along with a request to see pearl incarnadine taffeta. I try to lockstep with the fashions as a part of the bread and jelly proposition, but I confess crushed geranium and pearl incarnadine make me feel very verdant. I should probably recognize them at the counters as old friends in fresh titles, but in print they are poetical and vague as Browning at his vaguest.

Black and white have already been pushed aside by our fashionables, in favor of colors. A modiste tells me that all the beautiful black and white gowns would go begging were it not for the fleshy matrons, who will resume them in the belief that black and white are kindly disposed toward obesity. According to a fashion prognosticator, shaggy materials are the smart novelties for hat making. These unkempt materials are a delusion and a joy as far as weight is concerned, for they are light as feathers. The long-haired felts will somewhat supplant "made" hats, but they will be none the less expensive. —News-Letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers entertained at dinner during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weaver are at the Castle beach cottage for a few weeks.

Mrs. Allen, mother of Mrs. Lowrey, of Spreckelsville, Maui, has gone for a visit of some months with her daughter.

Mrs. E. Cotton, who has been staying at the Hawaiian Hotel, has returned to her Oakland home.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass McBryde, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. Grace Hudson, Mr. Isaac Dillingham, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Miss Marian Scott and Mr. Kimball, made up a jolly house party that stayed over Sunday at Mokaleia, the Dillingham ranch place, last week.

Wedding cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Edith Henry, of Detroit, Michigan, to Mr. Edwin Scott Barbour, to take place October 15th. Miss Henry was entertained here last year by a number of Honolulu society folk, when she passed through our city on her way from the Orient.

Colonel and Mrs. W. F. Allen have gone for a tour of New Zealand.

Deputy Auditor H. C. Myers returned on the Sierra from his vacation at the Coast.

Miss Castle, who has been, for the summer, on Maui, and who returned home recently, gave the first of the renewals of her afternoon musicales at her home in Manoa Valley on Sunday last. Miss Castle's original intention was to make of these affairs agreeable afternoons for only such among her bachelor acquaintances or their friends as might, somewhat of strangers in these islands, find their Sundays longer than do those who are counted as the kamaainas, but the voicing of constant regrets on the part of music lovers not included, has induced Miss Castle to broaden out in the making up of her list. An afternoon spent in the beautiful Manoa home of the Castles is a brain tonic in itself. The house commands, from its site, high on the side of the mountains, one of the most magnificent of views which is easily attainable from the lanais, almost entirely glassed and from wide windows in the long music room.

The program rendered on Sunday last was a thoroughly artistic one, and those present felt that they had been fortunate indeed to have been among the guests. The first number was a duet by Miss Carrie Castle and Miss Elspeth, which was followed by a song by Mr. Arthur Wall. A violin solo was next rendered by Miss Barber, who was accompanied by Miss Maud Kinney. A vocal solo by Mrs. Tenney Peck was followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Castle, and the last number was sung by Miss Edith Rogers, accompanied by Mr. Smith on the flute, and Miss Castle at the piano. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Castle, Dr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mr. Arthur Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Miss Alice Taber, Mrs. Henry Castle, Mr. Clifton Tracy, Mr. William Love, Mrs. Selma Kinney, Miss Maud Kinney, Mr. Lull, Miss Willcox of Kauai, Miss Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Shimmons, Mr. Howland, Captain and Mrs. Pond, Mr. Ford Harvey, Mrs. Castle-Coleman, Mr. Miller, Mr. Stoakes, Mr. Walcott and Mr. Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Myers, who returned during the week from their trip to the Colonies, are domiciled at Engleside.

Among the passengers on the Sierra was Mrs. M. A. Edwards, wife of one of the justices of the Supreme Court of New Zealand.

On October 29th Consul Leon Guislian, Belgian representative at San Francisco, who has been transferred to Manila, will pass through Honolulu.

Mr. C. A. Brown is once more in town.

Mrs. S. W. Dowsett was among the Sierra's arrivals.

Mrs. F. E. Hobron was an incomer during the week.

Mr. J. A. Kennedy returned from the Coast on Wednesday.

Miss Sarah Robertson, who has been attending an Eastern school for some two years or more, returned to the Islands by way of the foreign boat of the mid-week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant and child were incomers on Wednesday's steamer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wichman are back from their San Francisco visit.

The Misses Wilcox of Kauai, who have been in the East for a number of months, returned home on the Sierra of Wednesday.

Miss E. Ladd has gone to Hawaii.

The Mauna Loa Look away Mr. R. W. Atkinson on Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hayselden were outgoing passengers on the Island boat of the 8th.

The informal luncheon given by Mrs. Linda H. Bryan at the Palace Grill on Wednesday in honor of Miss Polly Dunn, who leaves shortly for Honolulu, where she will be married to Mr. Macfarlane, was an exceedingly delightful affair. The matinee was enjoyed by all afterwards. Those at the table were Mrs. Harry F. Dutton, Miss Mae Colburn, Miss Laura Taylor, Miss Mamie Polheimus, Miss Gertrude Van Wyck, and Miss Gertrude Dutton. —News-Letter.

Lieut. Colonel Samuel M. Mills, who has been in command of the Fort Santiago artillery station, has been relieved from duty with this division and will return to the States on the Grant," says the Manila Times. "Colonel Mills has been here for some time, and has become well known and liked in both military and non-military circles. For some time he was inspector general of the Separate Brigade, but served in China on the staff of Major General Chaffee in this capacity. During his service with the division of the Philippines as inspector, Colonel Mills has rendered some very important services, having investigated and reported on some notable cases. He has the reputation of being one of the most courtly officers in the service, and his kindly manner has gained him many friends and warm admirers, who sincerely regret his departure."

Dr. Raymond returned to his Maui home early in the week.

Mrs. F. C. Allen was an outgoing passenger on Tuesday's Claudine.

Miss Alexander has gone to the Garden Isle.

Mrs. C. M. Cooke is spending some time on Kauai.

A choral society for the production of oratorio and other works of that nature is to be organized by Professor Ballaseyus, with a view of presenting Handel's "Messiah" during the winter.

Second Lieut. Francis J. Behr, Artillery Corps, U. S. A., will shortly arrive from San Francisco for duty at Camp McKinley.

Two months' leave of absence has been granted Capt. W. D. Ketchum, of the Coast Artillery, Camp McKinley.

The Examiner says the date has been set for the wedding of Miss Polly Dunn, one of the most beautiful girls in society, and Mr. Harry Macfarlane, of Honolulu. On December 4th Miss Dunn will change her name. November 17th the wedding party, including Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Dutton, Miss Gertrude Dutton and Miss Mae Colburn, leave here for Honolulu. Mr. H. E. Dutton will give the bride away and Miss Colburn will be the honored maid.

At a recent dinner, a report which had been current during the week previous that an engagement was to be announced that night, was so persistently voiced that finally a girl noted for her bright wit, excused herself for a few moments from the table, and upon her return wore pinned in a conspicuous place upon her gown a card bearing these words: "Engagement—at 11:30 Monday—with Dr. G.—n."

At the Waialua Hotel on Friday evening of last week, Miss Zoe Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Atkinson, was married to Prof. R. C.

L. Perkins, Miss Atkinson has lived in the Islands since childhood, and is well and favorably known to a host of friends, while Mr. Perkins is the English naturalist who has made extended visits to Honolulu for a number of years.

Dr. and Mrs. Hoffman will soon be home from Germany.

Mr. Joseph A. Gilman, who has been on the Coast, is back.

Mr. W. C. Crook Jr., of the Dillingham Company, who has been spending a short vacation in San Francisco, is once more in town.

Mr. W. O. Smith and family were incomers from away during the week.

Attorney General Dole and bride are expected back the latter part of the month.

Prince David Kawanakoa gave a farewell treat to the little ones of the Lilliputian Company on Tuesday evening at the Hawaiian Hotel, in the shape of a quintet concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Church gave a small anniversary celebration to a number of their friends on Thursday evening at their pretty home on the plains.

President and Mrs. Smith, of Oahu College, entertained some forty guests at a most delightful musicale on Thursday evening, in honor of Mrs. Miller, the bride of Mr. Miller, now connected with the college.

Great sympathy is being expressed for Mrs. William Haywood in this, the second sad bereavement which it has been her lot to bear with in so short a time. The sudden death of her father, following so closely upon that of her mother, for whom Mrs. Haywood was still in mourning when here last, must have been a terrible shock for her.

The literary entertainment of the Kiohiana Art League, which took place on Saturday afternoon last, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and those who had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Castle's paper on "Stephen Phillips" were given a decided treat.

The preparations for the Lewers-Lull wedding are under way, and it is surely it will be a pretty ceremony, as there are to be, besides the maid of honor, Miss Sorenson, six bridesmaids from among the prettiest and most popular of Honolulu's fair maidens. The list includes Miss May Dutton, Miss K. Widdfield, Miss Kate Patey, Miss Schaefer and Miss Peterson. It is rumored that the idea of having a church wedding has been given up in favor of the beautiful beach home of the Lewers, which is certainly an ideal spot for all gayeties, and will have, in addition, the charm of making the affair decidedly unique.

Captain and Mrs. Slater will soon leave Engleside to take up their residence at Camp McKinley.

A San Francisco society column voices the regret of her many friends over the fact that Miss Polly Dunn's decision to be married in Honolulu is to deprive them of being present when she becomes Mrs. Macfarlane, and goes on to say that the wedding is to take place during the early part of November, and that the bride, her sister, Mrs. Dutton, and a few of their friends will leave for the Islands shortly before that time.

Miss Ida Belle Palmer, who spent two summers in our city a few years ago, was married in Oakland on Tuesday, October 8, to Mr. George Wheaton.

A small bachelor dinner was given in honor of the birthday of Mr. Wright, of the First National Bank on Thursday evening of this week, at the Mouins Hotel. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the hostelry were Mr. Mad-dox, Mr. J. Tarn McGrew, Mr. H. Craft, Mr. Card and Mr. Wright.

The informal luncheon given by Mrs. Linda H. Bryan at the Palace Grill on Wednesday in honor of Miss Polly Dunn, who leaves shortly for Honolulu, where she will be married to Mr. Macfarlane, was an exceptionally delightful affair. The matinee was enjoyed by all afterwards. Those at the table were Mrs. Harry F. Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Lucy M. Winne and Edward H. Boyen on Tuesday evening, October 22, 1901. The ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Winne, 144 Beretania street. The bride is connected with one of our oldest families, being a great-granddaughter of the Rev. Asa Thurston and wife, and a niece of Mrs. C. H. Kluegel. The groom has been in Honolulu for about five years, and is connected with the United States customs service. J. K. Brown Jr. will act as best man, while Miss May Persis Winne will attend the bride.
